CHRYSANthemums, HARDY

The inclusion of this excellent perennial in your garden makes it possible to have color in your border after the majority of hardy herbaceous flowers are past. They are valuable for cut-flowers and all resist frost well.

To grow Chrysanthemums at their best, have your soil dug deeply and enriched with well-rotted manure before planting. If your soil is heavy, add sand and humus. For best results, set them out after danger of frost is past in the Spring. Divide frequently to insure vigorous, healthy plants.

DELPHINIUM • Hardy Larkspur

Undoubtedly one of the most attractive as well as popular subjects available for the hardy border. Their stately flower-spikes furnish colors and color-tones that no other hardy perennial is capable of producing. Set in well-prepared soil in the early Spring or early Fall, they will supply the garden with a succession of bloom from late May until late Fall, provided the flower-stems are cut back after each crop of flowers has faded. Do not allow seed to form. A liberal application of bonemeal in early Spring and middle of Summer will prove very beneficial.

Belladonna, Cliveden Beauty. All experts agree that this strain is an improvement on the original. It is the freest and most continuous blooming of all the Delphiniums. The clear turquoise-blue of its flowers is not equaled for delicacy and beauty. 60 cts. for 3, $1.50 for 10, $3.00 for 25, $11.00 per 100.

Bellamosum. This is a rich deep blue form of the popular light blue Belladonna, having the same free-blooming and other good qualities. 60 cts. for 3, $1.50 for 10, $3.00 for 25, $11.00 per 100.

Blackmore & Langdon's English Hybrids. This is indeed a wonderful strain. Giant Pacific Hybrids. This is a sensational new strain of hybrid Delphinium proclaimed one of the showiest and most glorious of all. Under favorable conditions the plants will reach truly gigantic height, yet every flower-spike is well formed. Has wiry, slender stems and a large percentage of the plants have proved decidedly resistant to mildew. Nicely formed bees, fine foliage, and unusual uniformity of habit combine to make this one of the most desirable hardy Larkspurs. 50 cts. each, 3 for $1.35.

Lamartine. Gentian-blue, with conspicuous white center—a deeper blue than Bellamosum. Wonderful variety. $1.00 for 3, $3.00 for 10.

Wrexham's Hollyhock. The Wrexham strain grows 5 to 8 feet tall and the spikes have 36 to 40 inches of flowers, hence the name Hollyhock Delphinium. The colors are shades of blue and violet with white, purple, and black-blue center petals, both double and single. 90 cts. for 3, $2.50 for 10, $5.00 for 25, $19.00 per 100.

PHLOX

There just isn't anything like Phlox to keep the border alive during the hot days of summer.

It is a graceful grower, the flowers are deliciously fragrant, and the clear colors of the large florets of modern varieties are lovely to look at.

Study the interesting coloring of the three fine varieties pictured above and then turn to page 8 for a complete list.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Just as Phlox is the backbone of the summer garden, so is the Chrysanthemum the mainstay in the fall. Coming into bloom when other plants are getting ready for their long sleep, the lovely Mums, with their pungent odors, truly breathe the autumn spirit.

We show here a few of the double forms of the new Korean Hybrids in true autumn colors. There is a complete list of Chrysanthemums on pages 4 and 5.

Whether you want lots of cut-flowers or just garden color, you will need some of the newer Mums.
